Political War Gains Momentum as Party Leaders Fling Taunts

Washington, Feb. 6 (AP).—From coast to coast the political war intensified today, with battling leaders flinging such terms as "bribery" and "predatory powers" at each other.

In Florida, Postmaster General Farley assailed the American Liberty League as "predatory powers" speaking for "reactionaries."

Colonel Frank Knox, speaking at Vincennes, Ind., last night, charged the New Deal with "bribery practices in the name of humanity."

While Senator Borah (R-Ida) faced the cameras for the first time as a fully compromised presidential candidate determined to better the established party leadership, Colonel Knox called for Republican harmony.

With Farley attacking the Liberty League, one of its directors, former Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, criticized the administration's "brain trust."

Another attack on the League—bitter foe of the administration—came from Brooks Hays, assistant to Rexford G. Tugwell, under-secretary of agriculture. He declared in Atlanta that if the league's principles are accepted "the south is doomed."

Farley ignored the name of Alfred E. Smith, chief speaker at a league dinner here less than a fortnight ago. But he struck out sharply at the organization whose members include such Democrats as Smith, party presidential nominee in 1928, and John W. Davis, the 1924 standard bearer.

"The League," he declared at a Roosevelt dinner in Miami last night, "speaks as conclusively for the reactionaries and their party as does Mr. Hoover, the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Manufacturers' Association."

Farley declared not a single man in public life approaches Mr. Roosevelt "remotely" in the capacity "for public service and leadership."

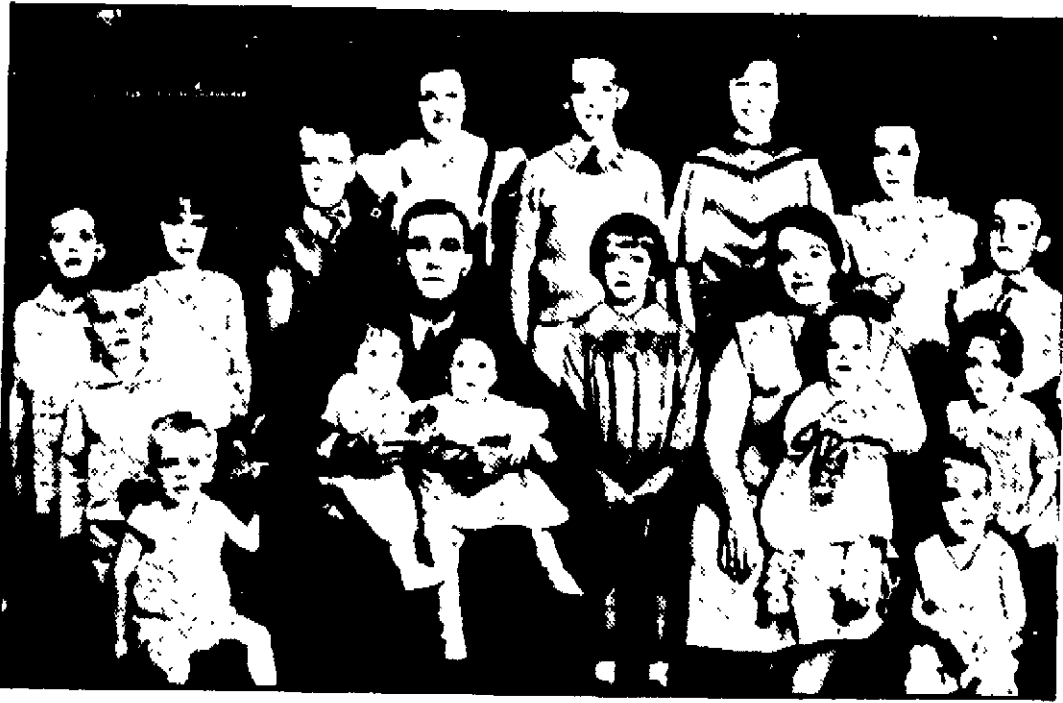

Knox told 1,200 Republicans that he is in the presidential picture "only at the request of my united party organization in Illinois," and that "it is no time for the exploitation of personal ambitions."

In charging "bribery," he declared: "Think of handing a man a relief dose or a better job or a cornhog check and then demanding that he vote for you on the penalty of having the necessities of life taken from him."

In Athens, Ga., Governor Eugene Talmadge hammered away at the New Deal's farm conservation program.

"If there was an abbatial year, till the soil for six years and letting the land lay idle for the seventh year," he said, "the people would learn to save for the time when they could not grow things."

16 Children In One Family, 15 With The Mumps

This family by all rights would seem in line for some sort of record on mass production of the mumps—for out of a total of 16 children, 15 of them came down with the affliction at one time. James wasn't taken down, but Mrs. Gilchrist, the mother, said she expected him to be. Left to right, back row: Corliss, Darlene, Willard, Helen, James, Catherine, Jeanette and Darland. Center row: John, James Gilchrist, the father, Corliss, Mrs. Gilchrist and Nancy Ann. Front row: Kenneth, Joan, Janice and Jane, triplets, and Keith. They are pictured in their home at Pocahontas, Iowa. (Associated Press Photo)

Nazis Enforce Ban On Jewish Societies

Berlin, Feb. 6 (AP).—The third Reich enforced today a ban on meetings of all Jewish cultural organizations in an effort to forestall any renewal of anti-semitic rioting as the fourth winter Olympic games opened at Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

The government, through its minister to Bern, also placed before the Swiss government an official request to "discover and prosecute those behind" the assassination of Wilhelm Gustloff, former leader of the Nazis in Switzerland.

The Reich government said the slaying of Gustloff at Davos Tuesday by a Yugoslav medical student, who described himself as David Frankfurter, a Jew, was "without doubt, a political murder."

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of press and propaganda, announced that the prohibition of meetings of Jewish cultural organizations, such as theatres, would remain in effect until further notice.

Bernard Rust, Prussian commissioner of culture and education, forbade Aryan University students to employ Jewish tutors as "contrary to academic dignity."

A Berlin dispatch to the Jewish telegraphic agency described Goebbels' order for suspension of Jewish cultural activities as the "first reprisal against the German Jews" for the assassination of Gustloff.

Berlin Jewish circles were reported to believe, however, that no further steps would be taken until after the conclusion of the winter Olympic games.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Home-Seekers' Co-Operative Savings & Loan Association on Monday evening, February 3rd:

Resolved, that the Board of Directors of the Home-Seekers' Co-Operative Savings & Loan Association of the City of Kingston, N. Y., hereby register their profound sorrow and regret at the passing of Doctor A. H. Mambert.

Doctor Mambert was one of the organizers of the Association, and its first president. He served continuously in that capacity until 1929, when he retired due to failing health. Much of the success of the institution is attributable to his wise leadership and unflinching interest.

The Directors extend their deepest sympathy to the members of his family, and order that this memorial be spread upon the records of the Association, and a copy transmitted to them.

Travel Writer Killed In 'Forbidden' Country

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 6 (AP).—The forbidden country of the "Penitentes" was invaded by man hunters today in a search for the killers of Carl Taylor, young travel writer, who was shot to death after completing an expose of the strange religious sect.

The body of the 30-year-old author and adventurer whose writings have appeared in several British and American travel magazines, was found on the floor of his lonely Sandia Mountains cabin 20 miles east of here last night.

On a desk lay the newly finished manuscript of his latest article, a story of the secret practices of the "Penitentes," a self-torture cult. Modesto Trujillo, 16-year-old Spanish-American neighbor of the slain author, raced to justice of the Peace Faustino Chavez last night and blurted out the story of Taylor's death.

"Two men with rage over their faces," he said, entered the cabin where Taylor and Trujillo were visiting and opened fire on the writer. The terrified Trujillo ran at the first shot. He and an unidentified Spanish-American were held by officers for further questioning.

Conrad Richter, writer of western stories and close friend of the slain man, said two nights ago Taylor dared the wrath of the "Penitentes" by entering the "Morada" or temple to take flashlight pictures. Richter said the young writer later boasted jokingly of the pictures he had made.

Flood Control Is a Major Problem Before The State Legislature

Many, Feb. 6 (Special)—Flood control for the southern tier counties of New York state has become a major problem for the 1936 legislative session.

Already steps have been taken to advance legislation for a program to guard lives and property against the menace of floods in the 16 counties that suffer whenever abnormal rains during late spring and summer months overtax the natural sources of drainage.

Ross of Troy, and Assemblyman William S. Dunn of Schoharie, both Democrats, have been passed by the legislature, calling up the secretary of war, the members of Congress from New York, and the Army engineers to consider this matter.

To alleviate local governments from red tape at times of emergency there is now before the legislature the joint sponsored Devo-Vincent act which would authorize boards of supervisors to appropriate necessary funds for defraying administration expenses of organizations having for their object control of flood waters.

The measure which has passed the Assembly is now upon the third reading calendar in the upper chamber.

Noting that France, Turkey, Greece and Jugoslavia have agreed to help Great Britain if the Empire is attacked by Italy we call attention to the fact that as a gatherer of allies John Bull is about the best little liner-upper on earth.

Woodstock and Phoenix sections are among the areas harmed by uncontrolled waters.

Mulrooney Has Chance For "Real Service" in State's Prisons Post

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—Edward P. Mulrooney, the former water front "cop" who rose through the ranks to become head of the Empire State's Department of Correction, viewed his new job today as opening the way for him to be of "real service" to the state.

Almost his first words as commissioner of correction following his appointment by Governor Herbert H. Lehman yesterday were "It's just another job as far as I'm concerned—at which I'll work very hard."

After two years as chairman of the State Liquor Authority, he was named correction commissioner to succeed the late Dr. Walter N. Thayer, Jr.

The new commissioner said that one of his first undertakings would be a tour of the state's correctional facilities "to get a mental picture of the whole thing."

"I believe prison inmates should be given every opportunity to rehabilitate themselves and take their place in society again," Mulrooney said, summing up his administrative policy.

The "commissioner" discussed his new job between quick bites of a sandwich and gulps of coffee. The telephone rang frequently as friends called to offer congratulations.

Mulrooney said his "real service" would be in assisting in the rehabilitation of criminals.

He declared he believed in fair play with rewards for the "good" and swift punishment for the "bad." He has the reputation of being a strict disciplinarian.

He said he was "as much surprised when Governor Lehman approached me on the subject of naming me correction commissioner as I was when I was named liquor board chairman." His annual salary remains unchanged in the new post, $12,000. "Of course I was pleased," he added.

He said he expected to take the oath of office "next Monday or Tuesday, as soon as I can clean up on some of this liquor board work."

Mulrooney has repeatedly insisted that the place to attack the crime problem is "at its base—juvenile delinquency." He reaffirmed that conviction today.

"Give the youngsters proper guidance in the formative years," he asserted, "and you'll make good citizens out of them, not criminals."

He indicated he would adopt a "go slow" policy in regard to any administrative changes in the correction department until he had a "look around."

Governor Lehman said that in naming Mulrooney to the post, he had sought a man with "long practical experience with criminals, and yet who is humane in his viewpoint."

Wanted A Taxi, But Called Wrong Number

Number 1671 is Not Telephone Call of a Taxi Concern as Maggie Bassett and Dan Rankin Learned to Their Regret—Other Cases in the Court.

"We had a few drinks together, and then went outside and sat on the curb," explained Dan Rankin, a negro of Goldrick's brickyard, this morning, "and as it was getting colder I told Maggie Bassett who was with me to telephone for a taxi."

"Maggie went to the nearest telephone and called for a taxi, but she must have called the wrong number for instead of a taxi she called 1671 and the K. P. D. car drew up to the curb and took us aboard."

Dan and Maggie, who resides at 23 Sycamore street, were both arrested on charges of public intoxication, and this morning in police court Judge Culliton sentenced them to five days each in the county jail on their plea of guilty.

"If Maggie had only called the right number we would be home now," moaned Dan regretfully.

It will be recalled that Maggie recently had Dan arrested on a charge of third degree assault, but Dan said today that while he had promised to leave her alone she had called him up to meet her and go uptown shopping.

Edward Brady of Cortland and James Milo of Binghamton, who were arrested Tuesday night at the court house on a charge of disorderly conduct and on Wednesday told Judge Culliton that they were only "sticking up for their rights as American citizens" in seeking a lodging for the night at the county building, later in the day changed their former plea of not guilty to guilty and were sentenced to 10 days each in jail.

Jerry Long of First avenue, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct on complaint of his wife, was discharged when the wife failed to appear to press the charge.

William Higgins, 45, who said he had no home, was arrested for public intoxication on Broadway last night. This morning he was sentenced to 5 days in the county jail.

Joseph Naccarato, 70, of 20 North street, was arrested yesterday by James F. Smith who has charge of the Kingston Point Park. Naccarato was charged with cutting down a maple tree on the park property. He told Judge Culliton this morning that he had no fuel in the house to keep warm which had led him to cutting down the tree.

Judge Culliton said that he would take into consideration the fact that Naccarato was in need of fuel, but warned him that he had no right to go on anyone else's property without permission. The judge imposed a fine of $10 but suspended the payment of the fine.

HOME BOMBED IN PEKIN STRIKE

The above home, owned by a deputy sheriff at Pekin, Ill., was bombed as state and city officials attempted to mediate the general strike which paralyzed the city. The strike was an outgrowth of a dispute between workers and officials of the American Distilling company. (Associated Press Photo)

"Little Women" Posters

In many business places there are now on display very clever posters advertising the presentation of "Little Women", taken from Louisa M. Alcott's book of the same title, by students of the St. Ursula Academy, on the afternoon of February 11 and the evening of February 12 at St. Mary's School Hall. These posters with their clever pen portraits of "Meg Jo Beth and Amy" are the work of the students of the academy and forecast an equally clever performance. Already the advance sale of tickets which may be secured at the academy or from the students and from Miss Mary Tierney and Miss Frances Doyle, is very gratifying.

Our plans to renovate the house seem constantly to shrink. At first we thought to change the roof, the bath, the kitchen sink. We even dreamed of a box spring made just to fit the bed. But so far we've only managed to paint the cupboard red.

Doctor: Not if you are careful.

Isn't it strange we keep out un-desirable immigrants and yet let the stork bring in what it will?

Home Gardener (to agent): This sure death to bugs that you sold me last year doesn't seem to kill the pests at all.

Agent: Yes, that's the advantage of using our patent exterminator. The properties of this marvelous preparation are not to kill off the bugs at once but to gradually but surely undermine their constitutions.

A little vision goes a long way—too much vision has certainly wrecked more men than too little.

Daddy:—Bankruptcy, my boy, is when you put your money in your hip pocket and let your creditors take your coat.

In Recognition of Faithful Service

A portrait of Oscar of the Waldorf was unveiled in Peacock Alley recently where it will be permanent. In recognition of Oscar's faithful and uninterupted service with the hotel since March, 1893. Shown, left to right, Augustus Nulle, Treasurer, Lucius Boomer, President, Oscar of the Waldorf and Charles Hayden, prominent banker and Chairman of the hotel corporation, who officiated at the unveiling ceremonies.

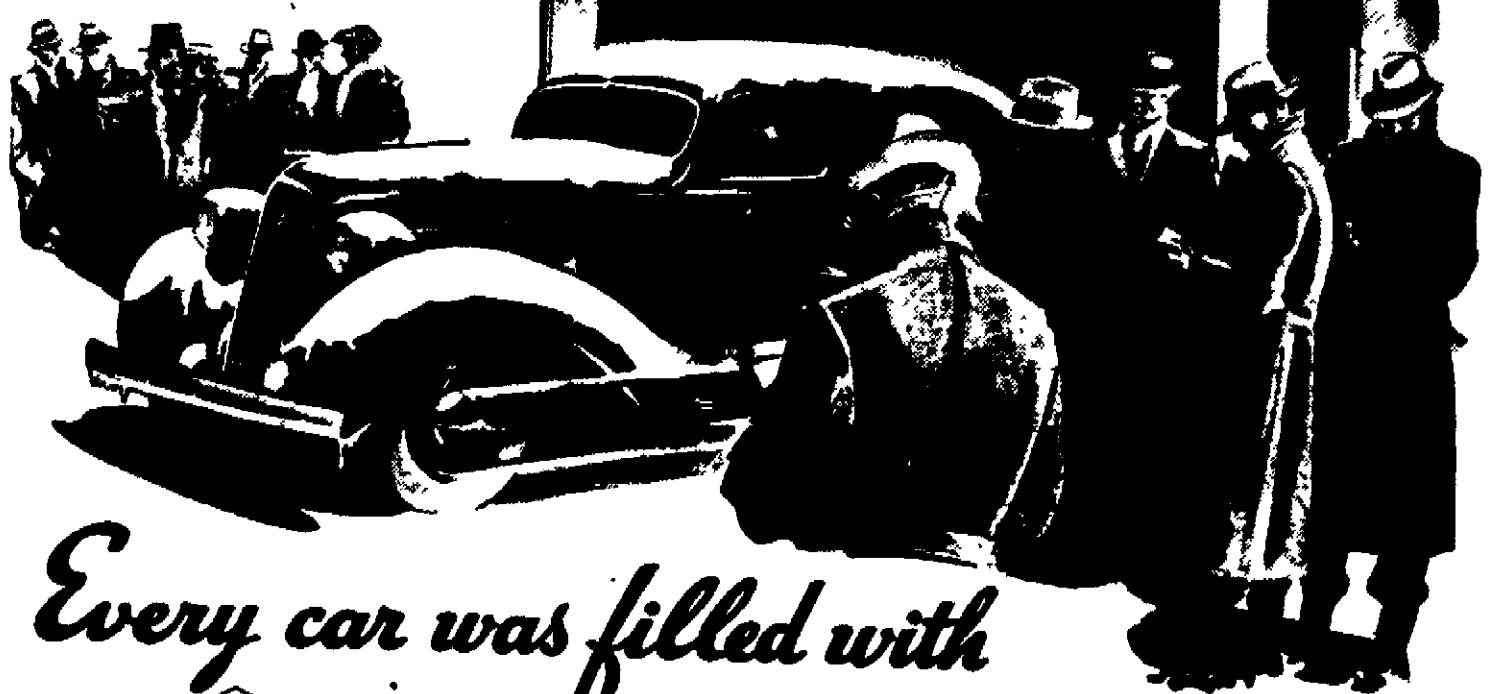

If you don't want your house to become so hot that you have to park outside, you should exercise the utmost care in operating your heating plant—especially when the mercury drops to low temperatures. Far better to take more time for increasing the heat in the house, than to suffer a destructive fire from an overheated stove or chimney. "Forcing" a furnace is definitely dangerous.

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 10 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

Toronto Woman Bears 12th Baby in "Derby"

Toronto, Feb. 6 (P)—Babies were valued at $500,000 a dozen today Mrs. Matthew Kenny, self-designated leader in Toronto's "stork derby."

Mrs. Kenny gave birth Monday night to her 12th child since October 21, 1926. That, she contended, gave her the lead in the $500,000, ten-year baby-producing race.

Her three nearest rivals in the contest have nine children each, and the next three have eight each.

Mrs. Kenny said she was going to call her 12th baby Charles Vance Millar Kenny, in honor of the man whose death started the race, but the baby lived only a few minutes after birth.

Charles Vance Millar was a corporation lawyer who left an estate of about $2,000,000.

After he died, his will was found to contain a bequest of $500,000 and "any interest or profits thereof," to the Toronto mother who in the next ten years after his death had the most babies registered at the vital statistics office.

Children do not have to remain alive after birth to count in the race, which ends October 31, 1936.

Mrs. Kenny has seven children alive.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "The Three Musketeers." The story Douglas Fairbanks made camera conscious several years ago becomes a slashing, devil-may-care, adventure yarn in this RKO-Radio production that brings the romantic D'Artagnan, Aramis, Porthos and Aramis back to the wars of 17th century France with all the intrigue and corruption of the French court. The time of the play is during Cardinal Richelieu's bitter struggle to keep the weak Louis XIII under his thumb. A dictatorial master of state, Richelieu directs the policy of France and he crushes his enemies with speed and dispatch. Into this intrigue rides the young D'Artagnan from Gascony and before he is finished, his blade has cut down many a traitor to the queen of France and his name is justly famous as a first class fighting man. He becomes one of the Musketeers, bitter enemies of the soldiers of Richelieu. The cast offers Walter Abel, Paul Lukas, Ian Keith, Heather Angel, Margot Grahame, Ralph Forbes, Nigel de Brulier, Onslow Stevens and Moroni Olsen. The photography was by Ferverell Marley and the production was handled by Rowland V. Lee.

Kingston: "Dangerous Waters" and "Kind Lady." Thrill after thrill constitutes the substance of the opening melodrama at the Kingston, a study in the sea and its many terrors lurking to ensnare men and whips. A lively plot adds to the wild sea scenes and Jack Holt, Robert Armstrong, Grace Bradley, Charles Murray and Diana Gibson all work hard in the main characterizations. "Kind Lady" is pretty brutal stuff and it isn't the type of play the kiddies should see or enjoy. It tells of a gang of British crooks in the kidnapping racket. It tells of a woman who takes in a hungry man out of pity only to have him imprison her and bring his gang into her home. Allie MacMahon, Beall Rathbone, Mary Carlisle, Frank Altherton and Dudley Digges are featured.

Orpheum: "Streamline Express" and "Rip Roaring Riley." What happens on an experimental cross country run on a new streamlining train is dramatically told in the opening talkies, a mixture of danger, love, comedy and speed. Victor Jory and Evelyn Venable head the cast of players. "Rip Roaring Riley" is the other full length attraction, an average melodramatic thriller with Grant Withers heading the players.

Tomorrow
Broadway: Same.
Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Waterfront Lady" and "Fighting Shadows." Double features continue at the Orpheum with Ann Rutherford having a tough time of it in the first offering as a woman of the waterfront. "Fighting Shadows" is one of Tim McCoy's latest struggle dramas of the western plains and Mr. McCoy battles it out with desperados and wins the girl as his just reward.

There's too much one-track equipment in this country, not only in railroads but in men's minds.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, the operatic mezzo-soprano, is Hollywood's newest recruit from the world of warblers. She is unlike the Misses Lily Pons, Grace Moore, Gladys Swarthout et al. in three important respects: physically she is of the old school of operatic heroines; she does not star in her picture; and she does not sing although she portrays an opera singer.

Frank Capra selected her for a comedy role, and she is "thrilled." She has long wanted to be in pictures, she says.

"I am burlesquing myself in this one," Madame explains. "I do not sing because if I did I would have to burlesque my singing—and I would not do that."

She is good-humored about her size, which is more than impressive. She was looking over some "stills" of herself the other day, suggesting some retouching.

"It is bad enough to be fat," she laughed, "without having a photograph make you look fatter!"

Teams' Revived

Screen romances of other days are being revived: George Raft and Carole Lombard in "Conceit," James Dunn and Sally Eilers in "Don't Get Personal," Leslie Howard and Norma Shearer in "Romeo and Juliet," George Brent and Kay Francis in "The Cream Princess," Gertrude Michael and Ray Milland in "Reunion," and so on.

It takes only one picture to make a movie team—and it is still a team no matter how many pictures, solo or with other players, have been made since the first.

Often pictures have been written around the titles of popular songs, but here is an instance of a completed film's being ripped open, as it were, to capitalize on a popular song. "Rolling Along," Harry Richman's picture, now in the cutting room, will have a sequence inserted to justify the change of title. So now, even in a movie theater, you won't be able to escape "The Music Goes Round and Around."

Oliver Vs. Yurka

Edna May Oliver was in bed three days after that fight with Blanche Yurka (Madame DeFarge) in "A Tale of Two Cities." It was her second cinematic tussle and she hopes her last. The first time, an actor had to hit her in the face, knocking her cold. That was all right except that he did, and actually knocked her cold. Miss Oliver prefers less strenuous acting.

PHILLIPS CAPTURED THE 4-H SPEAKING CONTEST

Nathaniel Phillips, Rifton, won first in the inter-county 4-H Speaking contest held at the New Armory, Kingston, in conjunction with the eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society. Four counties had contestants in this event. The winning of this contest entitled Nathaniel to compete in a contest between the winners representing the three groups, the Future Farmers of America, Junior Horticulturists and the 4-H Club. Nathaniel was chosen to represent Ulster county in this inter-county speaking contest at an elimination held in Highland. His topic was "The Thinning of Fruit."

Successful Bee School

A real successful 4-H Bee School was held in connection with the eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society, conducted by Prof. George H. Rea of Cornell University. Twenty-five members representing most of the eastern counties, who were interested in bees, attended this school. Prof. George H. Rea gave instructions in grading honey and the keeping of bees. He showed the moving picture "Bees, How They Live." Everyone who attended this school thoroughly enjoyed the instructions and felt the time well spent.

Why doesn't Congress just vote the President blanket authority to end the depression and go home?

Sentiment Returns In Lacy Garb As Valentines Wax Affectionate

By CHARLES NORMAN

New York (AP)—An arrow marks the spot for St. Valentine's day greetings this year, and it's right through the heart.

Sentiment is back, adorned with wings, frills and curls. Even a bit of lace flutters here and there, to make somebody's heart respond in kind.

That is the story of the latest Valentine greetings, chapter one. Chapter two, of course, recognizes that this is Leap Year, and some of the cards make the most of it.

Friendship gets almost as much attention as love, and children are provided with cards to send to Mama and Papa.

In the first category, it should not be hard to guess the sender, if the card sent bears the following verse:

Do you know how very often
My thoughts turn to you alone
And I think of happy hours
That together we have known.

Another pretty sentiment also is a "give-away."

You are so very thoughtful
In all you say and do
You are so understanding
So dear and kind and true
That I don't wonder
I think so much of you.

One card, shaped like a heart, is for a young woman—a blonde—to send to some young man who likes his sentiment straight, possibly as follows, which is the legend on the card:

A rag, a bone and a hank of hair
Salutes a guy who's on the square!

(We know it's a blonde because the part young woman pictured on the card is adorned with a tuft of blonde hair attached to the paper.)

"Hello Wife!" is the greeting on another card; inside the sentiment is expanded to (with illustrations):

Here are a few examples of the greetings which will keep the postman busy on St. Valentine's Day.

Here's the girl who saves the cash
And keeps the home and cooks the hash

And tells me all the news each day
And makes me think I have my way
She puts up with every whim

She's clever and she's neat and trim
She's just as dear as she can be
And gosh! she means the world to me!

Punctuation is an unnecessary frill
In the world of Valentines.

SAVE BY MAKING TOT A PARTY FROCK AT HOME SAYS MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9770

Sooner or later a girl is invited to parties, and then—what to wear? This tiny tot's mother has solved the party-frock problem with this adorably be-ruffled model of dotted swiss, which is equally becoming for a wee maiden of two, or her ten-year-old sister. Ruffled sleeves that flare prettily in childish animation, three pert bows that add distinction, and a center panel that's cut in one piece with the pointed yoke and bodice to lighten mother's sewing task—all make this pattern worth repeating. Minus one pair of festive ruffles, the frock might even be a successful play-time or school style, fashioned of washable cotton. Bats, or starched organza, are other "party" choices. Panties are included. Complete. Diagrammed. Marian Martin Sew Chart is offered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6 requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Send for our new spring pattern book, and take the guesswork out of planning and making your new clothes! Its many smart, practical designs will show you new ways to look your charming best, new ways to use the latest spring fabrics, new ways to stretch your budget. Special flattering designs for stout figures. Patterns for the whole family. Price of book fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Events Around The Empire State

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—Policeman John J. (Red) Clelland was grateful today for his athletic prowess, which routed 15 youths who set upon him because he ordered them from a high school balcony during a basketball game. Clelland, former light heavyweight and heavyweight amateur boxing champion of western New York, was severely beaten before he dispersed his assailants and arrested James Cosmano, 17, on a third degree assault charge.

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Mrs. Bridget A. Lyons, 84, mother of James J. Lyons, borough president of the Bronx. Mrs. Lyons died of pneumonia last night at the home of her son-in-law, Joseph A. Broderick, Federal Reserve governor. Burial will be in St. Agnes' Cemetery, Albany.

Mrs. William E. Borah, queried with other prospective Presidents' wives, confides to the Associated Press that she thinks "it would be hard to follow Mrs. Roosevelt." Well, except for someone like Admiral Byrd, the Martin Johnsons, or the Music That Goes Round and Round, it would be practically impossible.—Belleville, Kans., Telescope.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Beetroot taffeta rustles under plaid cable net.
Diana Merwin

The sheer effect in net, chiffon and lace is importantly stressed among newest modes for evening wear and the variable jacket theme finds greatest favor because of its adaptability to both semi-formal or formal affairs, due to its double-duty styling.

A majority of these new models use swishy taffeta as the foundation fabric in either matching or harmonizing color. Many unusually beautiful combinations are seen.

A rich beetroot shade is paired with pink to produce the lovely color effect used in the jacket formal sketched above. It is fashioned of woven cable net in plaid pattern posed over a slip of beetroot taffeta. The front neckline is high yet very youthful with its tailored collar of pink silk pique. Two bands go down the center back to form an interesting decolletage.

The accompanying jacket of net fastens at the front with one self-button and its long sleeves display deep, flared cuffs of pink silk pique to match the dress trimming. The back of the jacket is belted and trimmed with a self-buckle while a row of tiny pin tacks produces the smart fitted effect at the waistline.

Simple Patches Make Pansy Quilt

PATTERN 2244

Pansies, whose velvety softness holds so much appeal for young and old, are the inspiration of a colorful quilt which you can do quickly in an afternoon. Simple in form—the entire flower one piece—the patches are easy to apply. It's a grand way to use up scraps, for each flower may be of different color. Then, with easy outline stitch, embroidery floss, edges and center markings for a very life-like effect. Tones of yellow and purple will make it realistic.

In pattern 2244 you will find the Work Chart, an illustration for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with various charts, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Art Dept., 259 W. 19th Street, New York, N. Y.

Something New? Pick on These

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 6.—New sorts of tomatoes, cucumbers, lettuce, celery, and sweet corn are offered to vegetable growers who want to try something novel in 1936.

The offerings represent improvements made by plant breeders, and many of the varieties are only partially tried. The following recommendations are made by Professor Paul Work of the department of vegetable crops at Cornell University.

Tomato: Nystate. A graduate student at Cornell, from China, a few years ago, crossed the Italian variety King Humbert, a small pear-shaped tomato, with the large-fruited American variety Ponderosa, and Professor C. B. Sayre of the state agricultural experiment station at Geneva has carried on the selections until the Nystate variety appeared.

This new variety has not been fully tried, but it promises to be a fine, large, deep, smooth, well-colored tomato, suited for market or canning.

Tomato: Rutgers. This variety was developed by the New Jersey experiment station and seems to be taking that state by storm. It is an excellent tomato but may be a little late for some New York conditions. It is a large, flattened, red tomato, well adapted for canning or for juice.

Tomato: Scarlet Dawn. This is considered about the earliest round tomato in the state and is worth a trial. The fruits are not very large but are solid and ripely, well colored, and they mature relatively early.

A Straight Eight. Cucumber: Straight Eight. This cucumber is fairly long, of dark green color, full of the ends. It grows on a vine with good foliage, and produces satisfactorily. It is the result of definite breeding toward a definite object.

Lettuce: White Boston. Cornell Number 43. This variety is exceptionally well adapted for muckland culture. It is of the usual White Boston type, with large frame, and it produces a large proportion of good heads. It stands long without breaking out to seed. The strain resulted from selections by Dr. J. E. Knott of Cornell.

Celery: Golden Pascal. The millennium of a perfect eating celery is not yet here, but Golden Pascal is a big step in that direction. It has excellent quality, a thick stalk, relative stringlessness, and is easy to grow.

Sweet Corn: Hybrid Strains. Golden Cross has made enviable place for itself both among cannery and market growers, but it is a bit late. Growers interested in earlier strains of Yellow Hybrid sweet corn will do well to try Marcross 39, Bancross, Senecross, and Seneca Golden.

There's one good point about those Russian Communists, anyway. Candidates for office, reports an American observer, are "not so indelicate as to make speeches for themselves." They let somebody else tell how good they are.

Forum Sunday Night at Y. M. C. A.

The third in a series of bi-weekly forums will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday evening, starting at 8:15 o'clock. The topic of this week's forum will be "On What Does a Successful Marriage Depend?" The leader of the discussion will be the Rev. Russell S. Gaensle, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Dr. James A. Mather will act as resource man.

These forums are jointly sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the Ulster County Christian Youth Council. They are in the nature of an informal freestyle discussion, those attending the forum being grouped around the fireplace in one of the large front rooms of the "Y." The two that already have been held have been very successful. Both of the former forums have been led by the Rev. Gaensle. His manner of presentation and his leading of the discussion has been so popular with those who have attended the discussions that he had been secured to lead the one Sunday evening. Refreshments are served following the forum, which is open to the general public, young people being particularly invited to attend.

'LIFE-LINES' AID PEDESTRIANS AT STREET CROSSING

Heavy ropes were strung across streets in downtown Buffalo, N. Y., when gales that reached 70 miles an hour lashed the city, buffeting pedestrians and making street crossings actually dangerous. Here some walkers fight their way from one sidewalk to another as the wind howls. The city suffered heavy damage. (Associated Press Photo)

A method for making a cheddar cheese blend and combining with it oil of sage and green vegetable coloring matter to achieve an excellent quality sage cheese is described by Prof. J. C. Marquardt, dairy specialist at the State Experiment Station at Geneva, in an article in the current number of "Farm Research," the Station's quarterly magazine. Large quantities of sage are disposed of around Easter and Christmas time, particularly on the Boston market, which is especially partial to this product.

Pope Dedicates His Pontificate to Peace On 14th Anniversary

Vatican City, Feb. 6 (AP)—Pope Pius XI, dedicating his pontificate to peace, observed the 14th anniversary of his election to the throne of St. Peter today amid alarms of war.

The 78-year-old pontiff passed the day in comparative quiet.

He devoted most of it to reading hundreds of messages of congratulation which came to him from virtually all the world.

Otherwise, in accordance with his practice of avoiding every unnecessary strain, he took no special notice of the occasion.

The Observatore Romano, however, asserted the Pope had already spoken and acted in the "great threat" against civilization—an editorial interpreted by informed sources as an answer to any possible reproach that the pontiff has not stopped the Italo-Ethiopian war.

Next Wednesday, the anniversary of his coronation, His Holiness will attend a Pontifical Mass in the Sistine chapel.

Fourteen years ago, the College of Cardinals chose the present Pope, then Cardinal Ratti of Milan, as the successor to Pope Benedict XV, after 14 ballots.

Subsequently the new Pontiff announced his intention to assume the title Pius XI in these words: "Pius is the name of peace. Since I desire to consecrate my labors to the work of the peace of the world, that work to which my predecessor Benedict XV dedicated his life, I choose the name of Pius XI."

The Pontiff reached this anniversary in apparently good health, although papal circles had said he was "depressed" mentally over continuance of the Italo-Ethiopian war. He had cancelled public audiences Monday after a tiring week-end, but resumed them Tuesday.

Charlie Chaplin Gets New York Premiere

New York, Feb. 6 (AP)—Charlie Chaplin's first movie in five years was off at a flying start today after a gala premiere marked by an emergency call for police to push back crowds of celebrity-pursuing autograph hunters.

Sounds rumbled and rolled through the new movie, "Modern Times," but Chaplin's only concession to the screen that speaks was a tune in an unrecognizable tongue.

Throughout the picture, Chaplin staggers along, saying nothing, of course. But he finally bursts into song.

His singing marks the first time in his film career that an audience has heard his voice.

He loses the cleft on which are written the words of his song. He adopts a species of hog-Latin for the occasion, then rears into his song-and-dance act.

Among the stage and screen stars at the opening were Gloria Swanson, Ginger Rogers, Eddie Cantor, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., George Burns and Gracie Allen, Anna May Wong and Edward G. Robinson.

Mid-winter is none too early to get the garden plans in shape. Seed catalogs are available and good seeds of the best varieties are not yet sold out. Last-minute buying of seed frequently means substitutions, whereas early planning insures seed on hand for the early crops, some of which may be sown as early as a good seedbed can be prepared.

Ulster Youths at New York Egg Show

One girl and eight boys journeyed to Albany, Saturday, February 1, to exhibit their eggs and participate in judging and demonstration contests. Those who made the trip were Mabel Story, Ulster Park; Pollett Winchester and Edwin Dohrman, Highland; Ralph Tice, Spring Glen; Victor Miannay, Kingston; Robert Morehouse, Willard Shick, Lake Katrine; Rodney Hommel, Saugerties, and Wesley Smith of Saugerties.

Mrs. Story competed to represent the state at the New York Egg Show with her demonstration on preparation and serving eggs, but lost to a Rockland county girl, Jane Allison. Wesley Smith competed in the demonstration class for boys and also was a member of the judging team. The honors were as follows: Wesley Smith won the right to represent New York state at the New York Egg Show to be held in the Port of Authority Building, February 4-5, with his demonstration on the "Marketing of Quality Eggs". He also was Sweepstakes winner in his class with his entry of large brown eggs. Pollett Winchester was given second award on his entry of brown eggs. Rodney Hommel was second in the judging contest. The winners of each of the large egg classes, white and brown, which include the winning entry of Wesley Smith will show their eggs at the New York show.

A prize of 25 White Leghorn chicks donated by the Twin Maple Hatchery, Saugerties, was won by Victor Miannay for his entry of White Leghorn eggs. Edward Dunbar, Hurley, won the 25 New Hampshire Red chicks donated by Kenneth DuBois, New Paltz, on his entry of brown eggs.

Ulster county will also have Victor Miannay on the New York state poultry judging team at the New York show, he having been selected at the elimination contest at Ithaca, November 15.

KIDNAP THREAT FRAUD FOR WELLESLEY STUDENT.

Wellesley, Mass., Feb. 6 (AP)—A mysterious telephone call, which state detective said Virginia M. Peyton's mother interpreted as a threat to kidnap her helpless daughter, resulted today in a police guard for the 11-year-old Wellesley College Junior.

Mrs. Peyton, daughter of Mrs. Nathaniel Wagner of Danbury, Conn., and granddaughter of William Mallory, a director of the Mallory Hat Company, has not seen her father since childhood.

The maid, Stokes, said, told the caller Mrs. Peyton was in class and could not come to the phone. The man said he would call later, but failed to do so.

The girl went home on January 20 for a holiday and told her mother of the incident. Stokes said Mrs. Wagner became alarmed, telephoned the father, Donald Chambers Peyton, of Glendale, Calif., and learned he had not been east for 11 years.

Stokes said the Peytons were divorced 19 years ago.

Mrs. Wagner, according to Stokes, then asked that a state police guard be assigned to her daughter.

Highway Engineers Meet in Syracuse

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—Members of the New York State Association of Highway Engineers gathered here today to discuss, among other topics, methods of road construction that will reduce motor fatalities.

Traffic accidents can be curbed, many engineers have asserted, by building roads designed to meet modern conditions.

Among addresses awaited by the highway engineers and by the New York State Society of Professional Engineers, which also is holding its annual meeting, is that of Elmer D.

Stokes said the Peytons were divorced 19 years ago.

Mrs. Wagner, according to Stokes, then asked that a state police guard be assigned to her daughter.

Einstein intends to become an American citizen, and has taken out his first papers. But we won't really get excited till Gandhi registers for the presidential election.

British Officer Objects to Marker

Roma, Feb. 6 (AP).—A British colonial officer's "ambling defense" of Kenya's northern boundary, along which Gen. Rundle Grainger's southern army is advancing into Ethiopia, was described today by Italian press dispatches from East Africa.

An Italian detachment advancing from Italian Somaliland, was reported to have erected a marker to designate the southern limit of Ethiopian territory occupied north of the British Kenya Colony.

A British officer suggested cordially that the marker was six feet inside His Majesty's Colony, the dispatches said and the marker was withdrawn.

Informers heard that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the East African armies, with headquarters on the northern front, would be recalled soon to resume his post as chief of staff. The reports lacked confirmation. Sources familiar with the military situation believed Badoglio's recall was likely in view of the supreme defense council's concentration of precautions against any possibility of a European war.

High Fascist sources said the party would be militarized further, to take charge of internal events in Italy, in the event of a European war.

The party would take over such functions as transferring the population from coastal cities to hill towns, distributing gas masks and other similar services.

Premier Mussolini conferred for an hour with army corps commanders.

The government received an official communique from the war area stating: "There is nothing special on either front. The air corps bombarded enemy groups southwest of Makale."

Hoffman's Future Is Now Confused

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 6 (AP).—The political future of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman was thrown into confusion today by a sudden resumption of party leadership by the New Jersey Republican committee.

Hoffman, much in the national spotlight recently through his activities in the case of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, was informed by the group that "too much responsibility for the direction of party affairs has been imposed in the governor's office."

This was interpreted in partisan quarters as a warning from the Old Guard to younger leaders, among them Hoffman, that they intended to have a hand in distributing patronage.

It was denied by committee members that Hoffman's Hauptmann actions had anything to do with the unexpected move.

Meanwhile Hoffman announced that he intended to carry on independently his inquiry into the Lindbergh baby kidnapping, for which Hauptmann has been sentenced to die.

A reprieve granted January 16 by Hoffman ends in 10 days, and the governor asserted yesterday he planned no further stays.

32nd Anniversary

Wednesday evening, Golden Sunset Lodge celebrated its 32nd anniversary by holding a banquet at McCabe's restaurant. The banquet was held in the private dining room which was decorated in red, white and green. There was a huge birthday cake containing 32 red, white and green candles. Covers were laid for 50. After a greeting of welcome by the president, a delicious turkey dinner was enjoyed while Robert Steuding's orchestra entertained with popular songs and music.

Following the dinner games were played. Then came entertainment of songs and sketches. One of the most pleasing features and which brought great applause was one played in costume by Mrs. Robert Liscom, Mrs. William Powers, Mrs. Ralph Gakenheimer and Miss Prim Cahill, entitled "We've Been Working on the Railroad." It was typical of the happy dispositions of the men who ride the little old caboose behind the train. Golden Sunset Lodge is the Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Miss Prim Cahill stole the show when she donned costume and rendered her idea of "The Music Goes Round and Round." The evening's program was concluded when the president, Mrs. Harry Van Buren, very graciously called upon the past presidents for a few remarks all of whom responded with words of praise on the great progress of the auxiliary and wishing the newly elected officers a most successful year.

The members on departing for their homes voiced their appreciation to Mrs. William Powers, general chairman and her committee, Mrs. Ralph Gakenheimer, Mrs. Robert Liscom, Miss Teresa Cahill, and Mrs. Harry Wade.

New Paltz Recital

New Paltz, Feb. 6.—The third number of the current Lyceum course was given Monday evening, February 3 in the Normal school auditorium, this was a program of interpretive dancing by King Lan Chew, the only Chinese woman dancer in America. For her program Miss Chew gave dances reflecting not only the traditions of her native land but of Java, Persia, Japan and India. In addition to these traditional dances the recital included some original modern dances set to the music of Gershwin, Milhand, Scriabin and others. Miss Chew was graduated from Mills College where she received her M. A. in music. This step was in itself a distinct break from Chinese traditions concerning the place of women. She encountered parental objections and the ill will of others when she decided to become a dancer. Miss Chew studied under the outstanding teachers of the world and has taken instruction from such people as Jto, Chow Kai Ming, Biggstaff and Kreutzberg. Miss Chew has appeared in recitals covering all of the United States and has been associated in performances with such artists as the Monte Carlo Ballet, Fritz Kreisler, the Don Cosack Chorus, which appeared in New Paltz last year and Nelson Eddy, baritone. Her program on Monday night was: Chinese Actor, Traditional melody; Cambodian, native melody; Japanese, Spencer; Burmese Figurine, native melody; International, Phantasm, Gershwin, Ecclesiastical Suite; Renunciation, Orchestral; Supplication, Yamada; Benediction, Scriabin; Courante, Freccobaldi; Nocturne, Debussy; Corcovado, Milhand, International. Two Japanese sketches, Yamada; Nautch dances; In the Temple, Holst, Gregor; At the Bazaar, Strickland; Mu-Lan, Percussion. Miss Chew's accompanist was Louise Marleau. Costumes were by Miss Chew.

Fid Gordon at U. P. A. Food Show

Fid Gordon, the entertainer who has the reputation of stopping shows with his musical nonsense, will be the master of ceremonies at the U. P. A. Food and Progress Show in the Auditorium, next week, when Kingston's merchants come out in their annual carnival to entertain the public and advertise their wares.

"Fid has a wonderful way with him," say theatrical critics. "Armed with little more than a smile, a bow and a fiddle, he has the noted reputation of stopping shows." According to Al Skea, theatrical booking agent of New York, Gordon should be one of the biggest hits on the U. P. A. program.

Gordon will introduce the other acts, Janis Thompson, acrobatic dancer; Billy and Dorothy, Rolis, novelty dancers formerly of the Earl Carroll Vanities and Torelli's troupe of trained ponies, dogs and monkeys in the miniature circus.

There will be a change of program in the middle of the week, offering an entirely different bill of vaudeville for the last half of the U. P. A. show. The show will start Monday, February 10, and continue through Saturday the 15th.

This year's Food and Progress show promises to be bigger and better than ever, and indications are that it will be so popular that the Auditorium will be packed to capacity every afternoon and night next week.

Talmadge is trying "to play the white worker against the negro," was thrust forward today after having been withdrawn from a speech here last night.

Brooks Hays, special assistant to Administrator Rexford G. Tutwell of the resettlement administration, repeated in an interview charges he had deleted from his prepared address before a forum of the Georgia League of Women Voters.

"As one who was born and raised in the south under the influence of southern traditions," Hays said, "I predict a sharp rebuke will come to those who capitalize the troubles of southern people; white or colored."

Governor Talmadge declined to comment on Hays' charges.

Lawes Declines Offer

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP).—Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison, today telegraphed Governor Henry Horner of Illinois his declination of an invitation to serve on a committee to investigate the prison system of the mid-western state. Following the killing in prison of Richard Loeb, thrill slayer, invitations were sent out to prominent penologists. "It is commendable to give experienced men a free hand to go into the problem," Lawes telegraphed Horner. "but I am so busy keeping the affairs of my own house in order I haven't the time to devote to Illinois."

Housing Program Studied

Airlines Pilot Hurt In Albany Crackup

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP).—A large American Airlines passenger plane was wrecked in a snowbank while attempting to take off from Albany Airport today.

The pilot, W. D. Lester of New York, was taken to St. Peter's Hospital, Albany. He was unconscious.

The only passenger, who airline officials said was a "Mr. Allen," address unknown, was treated by a doctor at the airport. He apparently suffered only from shock, an American Airlines official said.

The plane, a fast tri-motored transport, was leaving for Newark, N. J., when it touched a high snowbank, thrown up by plows at one side of the runway.

At St. Peter's Hospital an attendant said Lester's condition was "serious."

WOMAN CUT HAND BREAKING GLASS IN FIRE ALARM BOX

About 8:20 o'clock last night Mrs. Mary C. Quinn of Pearl street discovered sparks arising from the chimney in the two story house at 224 Wall street, and in turning in an alarm from Box 215, she cut her hand in breaking the glass. She was given first aid treatment by Fireman Harold Sanford. The house is owned by William Abernethy and is occupied on the first floor by Mrs. Lillian Harris and the second floor by Mrs. Ruth Albright.

Last Tuesday night the fire department received a call for a bursted water pipe in the hot water heater in St. Mary's School. Firemen spread a tarpaulin under the leak and made temporary repairs.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Feb. 6.—The "Junior Team" met after the school sessions were over last Friday afternoon. A business meeting was called and an election of officers took place. Margaret Wagner, Alice Henriksen and Mildred Roe, were the names of the children who put forth the "best effort" for better citizenship for the last month. After the meeting refreshments were served and the remainder of the afternoon was happily spent playing games. Due to the bad weather the January list for perfect attendance fell off appreciably. Only four pupils scored 100 per cent. Their names are: Donald Smith, Alicia Henriksen, Virginia Henriksen, Margaret Wagner. Nine pupils earned a place on the "honor roll" or "best effort" scroll. Their names are: Arthur Smith, Charles Widener, Donald Smith, Harry North, William Wagner, Robert Burgher, Arthur Henriksen, Alicia Henriksen and Margaret Wagner.

Physical Examination Of Paid Firemen Will Be Held Week of Feb. 17

At the last meeting of the board of fire commissioners it was decided to hold physical examinations of all of the members of the paid fire department with the exception of the chief, deputy chief and superintendent of the fire alarm system. The week of February 17 has been fixed as the date for holding the physical tests which will be made by the department physicians.

For some time there have been rumors that the fire board planned to retire some of the members of the paid department, and to replace them with younger men who were physically fit to serve as paid firemen.

The local civil service board recently held civil service examinations for the purpose of having an eligible list ready in case any of the present members of the fire department were retired on pension. Of the men who took the civil service examination 69 were successful in passing. The men who will be certified to the fire board in case any vacancies are made will be those who head the top of the eligible list.

Eccles Faces Big Responsibilities As Inflation Drive Gets New Start

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington, (AP).—Sitting at the helm of the new federal reserve board is Marriner S. Eccles, the millionaire banker from Utah who in boyhood was a Mormon missionary to Europe.

The slim, sharp-featured westerner of Scottish parentage sabbergastrated some old school financiers with his "radical" monetary and economic 5-year tops recorded. Issues ahead recovery proposals. But now he fractions to around 2, included Case, heads a board which is generally regarded here as conservative.

A Republican, who rapidly built up a "depression-proof" chain bank in Utah and neighboring states and enlarged his fortune by investments in sundry industrial enterprises, he now is rated the most eloquent exponent of the administration theory of "conscious control" of the nation's banking system.

Face A Major Problem.

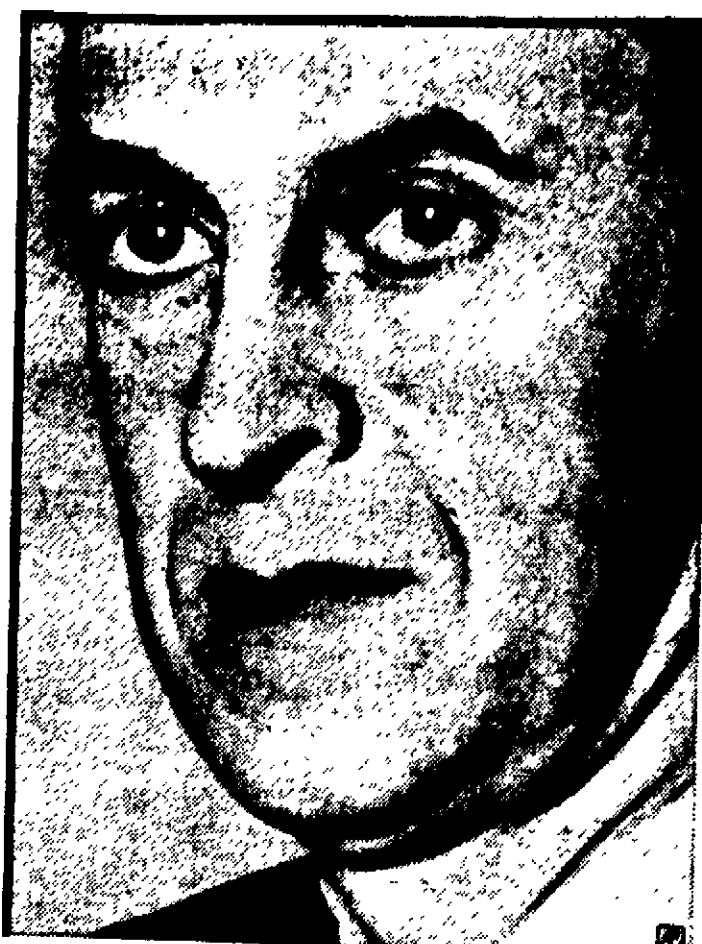

"A monetary system left to itself acts to promote instability rather than stability," he contends. "Expansion and contraction of credit once started have a tendency to become self-generating and to proceed to injurious limits."

Taking over increased banking and credit control power under the new banking measure, Eccles and his fellow board members face a major problem in controlling the huge surplus of money in the banks of the country representing, as it does, tremendous credit potentialities. Coincidentally, new talk of inflation arises on Capitol Hill.

Glass Opposes His Theories.

Eccles has said "the first of two supervisory important tasks likely to devolve upon the reserve administration is assuring that recovery does not result in an undesirable inflation." He has defined the second as "assuring that recovery is followed by a depression."

Although the young banker's appointment to the board and his banking legislation proposals met stiff opposition from Carter Glass last year, the Virginia senator did not contest his recent reappointment as head of the reserve administration. Glass still opposes the Eccles theories, but both men won concessions in the new banking measure, and the senator has characterized the new setup as "a pretty safe board."

Marriner S. Eccles, who was reappointed chairman of the federal reserve board, built up a "depression-proof" chain bank system in the west.

"A Prodigious Worker."

Eccles, who became a bank director at 22 after work as a lumberjack and a boy missionary, was appointed governor of the federal reserve board at 43—the youngest man ever to hold that high government post. His advocacy of a recovery program along "new deal" lines before the inauguration of President Roosevelt brought him to the attention of the administration.

Associates describe him as "a prodigious worker—a bundle of restrained nervous energy—who does not know how to relax." He plays an occasional golf foursome, and maintains a running fire of conversation with his companions on financial and economic topics. He is brisk in manner, but not cocky, and is slow to anger.

Twinkling eyes and a pleasant voice offset the severity of rather sharply cut features and firmly set jaw. He spends unusually long hours at his desk, but finds time to munch the peanuts he greatly relishes and to engage in enthusiastic discussion of fishing, hunting and camping in the mountains of Utah and the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming.

The funeral of James F. Keefe, one of Kingston's oldest residents, was held from the late home, 434 Washington street, this morning at 9 o'clock, thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 9:30 a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Edmund Burke. Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock a large delegation of the Holy Name Society led by their spiritual director, the Rev. John J. Manning, visited the home and recited the rosary for their departed member. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes from a host of sorrowing relatives and friends, together with spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards, which were placed near the casket. St. Joseph's children's choir, augmented by the responses during the Mass. At the offertory Mr. Dolan sang "O Salutaris," and at the conclusion of the Mass rendered "Ave Maria." ## King George Laid To Rest Beside Ancestors

Here is a picture made during the last solemn moments as the body of King George V, Britain's beloved ruler, was placed, with medieval pomp and glory, beside those of his ancestors in St. George's chapel, Windsor, England. At right, beside the crypt, stands King Edward VIII, who has just sprinkled earth onto the coffin, and in the foreground, swathed in veils, is Mary, the Queen Mother. Behind her are other members of the royal family. At the head of the crypt is the Archbishop of Canterbury. (Associated Press Photo.)

EUROPE'S RULERS IN ENGLISH KING'S FUNERAL

Kings of Europe, the president of France and many foreign princes were among the hundreds of representatives of other nations who paid tribute to the late King George of England when final rites were held in London. Shown here, as they followed in the funeral procession to Windsor Castle, are (left to right): Prince Paul, regent of Yugoslavia; Crown Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden; King Leopold of the Belgians; King Boris of Bulgaria; King Carol of Rumania; King Christian of Denmark; and Albert Lebrun, president of France. (Associated Press Photo.)

MOURNING THOUSANDS SEE SOVEREIGN'S BODY BORNE TO GRAVE

Striving side-walk streets, thousands upon thousands of English subjects lined the funeral route as King George's body was borne from Westminster Hall to Windsor Castle for interment. The new king and the British Royal Family, five foreign kings, the president of France and representatives of nations of the world, followed in the funeral procession. This was a general view as the hue of march passed Marlborough gate, near Buckingham Palace. (Associated Press Photo.)

Dobbin's Numbers Slashed in Half

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 6.—New York state farmers now have only about one-half as many horses as they had in 1920, and for the next few years horses will continue to be more valuable, reports "The New York State Agricultural Outlook for 1936," a publication drafted by staff members at the state college of agriculture.

It says horses have been declining in number in the United States for about 17 years and will probably reach a low point in 1936. "The low point in the numbers of animals of working age, however, will not be reached until a few years later."

The "horse cycle," which shows how horses gain or lose in value as compared with other prices, declined from 1912 to about 1925, and then started to rise, the outlook states. The rise has been more rapid since 1932 than before that year.

"This rise in value of horses stimulated the raising of colts. When these colts that are now being raised, together with those that will be raised during the next few years, grow to working age, the rise in value of horses will be checked. But for several years horses will continue to be more valuable."

"Colts now being raised will be ready for work near the peak of the 'horse cycle.' Those raised at the time of the peak will be ready to use at lower prices."

"If prices of horses continue to rise and the prices of tractors remain at about their present levels, the cost of doing farm work with horses will probably increase in relation to doing it with tractors. This may stimulate greater use of tractors and tend to prevent some of the increase in the prices of horses."

Capitol Awaits Plan To Centralize Relief

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP).—Capitol Hill awaited today Governor Herbert H. Lehman's formal proposal for centralization of New York State's Unemployment Relief Administration in the State Social Welfare Department.

Assuming personal command of the movement, the chief executive conferred last night with legislative leaders, relief officials and representatives of the Wardwell Commission, which has been studying the relief problem.

No formal statement was forthcoming, but legislators expected some indication from the governor within a day or two as to what the conference discussed.

The conference was held primarily to prepare legislation for a transfer of the duties of the Temporary Emergency Relief Administration to a permanent authority within the Social Welfare Department.

Governor Lehman has emphasized that the step should be taken immediately so the authority may function smoothly preparatory to any future relief policy the federal government should adopt.

Clinton Ave. Men's Club Minstrel Show

Another of the Clinton Avenue Men's Club annual minstrel shows made Epworth Hall resound with laughter and applause when it played to two full houses on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. This is their fourth annual minstrel show and an advertised was bigger and better than ever. Under the able direction and presentation of Frank T. Oulton the large chorus, the black faced comedians, the dignified interlocutor, Ferris Williams, and the able accompanist at the piano, Miss Evelyn Auchmoody, romped through an hour of good music and clean fun. Old songs and new, old jokes and new, won a ready response from the audience.

After the intermission Miss Evelyn Auchmoody's pleasant personality and accordion melodies made a decided hit with the customers.

The second part of the program introduced the exceptionally fine juvenile offering, "When the School Bell Rings", a kiddie comedy skit which brings great credit to Mr. Oulton who wrote it and directed this group of children. From the time the school bell rang until the school closed for its vacation time, from the first recitation and hilarious lesson period to the touching finish of the presentation the audience was brought through tears of laughter and sympathy, combined with admiration for the stellar acting of the children and the direction of the old Dutch schoolteacher, played by Mr. Oulton.

"The Silver Knights", a five piece orchestra under the leadership of Freddie Holcombe, entertained with overture, intermission and final numbers.

The Clinton Avenue Men's Club take this opportunity to thank the newspapers, the merchants, the east, the public and all others who helped so willingly to make this annual affair the success it proved to be.

The abundant life means taxing the people of Portland, Maine, for taking a free census at San Diego, Calif., or vice versa.

Card of Thanks
We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciations to our many friends and neighbors for their kindly acts and expressions of sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement.

It is still true that half a loaf is better than none but a complete loaf is much better if you can get on relief.

Business Girls' Club Meeting

There was an excellent attendance at the regular Wednesday night supper of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. at the Y. W. C. A. last evening. After the supper, Miss Bertha Waterman, the president, spoke of the inspiration of such a large meeting and cordially welcomed all present, especially some new members present for the first time.

Announcements were made of next week's meeting when Miss Edna Skinner will have charge of the program following the supper. It will be a Leap Year party with a short skit given, followed by games that may be participated in by everyone. Two weeks from last evening the Business Girls' Club will hold a card party at the Y. W. C. A., which promises to be a most enjoyable affair. Miss Alma Tyler is chairman of the ticket committee, but tickets may be purchased at the office of the Y. W. C. A. from Miss Tyler and the other members of the club.

Miss Waterman did not have to introduce the Rev. Mr. Legg, guest speaker, for he was already well and favorably known to the club. She did present him, however.

Mr. Legg, pastor of the Methodist Church of Port Ewen, spoke on "Faith, a Menace to the United States Today", especially in conjunction with Sinclair Lewis' book, "It Can't Happen Here."

The club members had been asked to read the book, but it had proven impossible for the most of them to do so. Mr. Legg instead of giving a review of the book, took up the general point of view of the book. He began with a definition of Faith as "the use by the owning classes of the political and police power of the state to protect their property and vested interests." The speaker made out a good case for the very grave danger of Faith getting a foothold in this country, in fact considered that such a foothold had already been gained, according to the definition. It had been expected that his talk would be followed by a debate, some of the club members having spent some little time in preparation for such a debate. But instead of any set debate, the subject was generally discussed, the young women showing that they had given considerable thought to the subject, where they had read the book and others indicating a quick and accurate judgment of the talk by their answers and comments. Perhaps all were a bit disappointed to have the matter left with no definite suggestion as to just what any one could do about it all. But the fact of the general discussion was most worthy of favorable comment and the thought was voiced that it would be well to have other similar discussions thus drawing out the thoughts of the club members and giving them the opportunity of expressing those thoughts and having them reacted upon by others.

Well it may be true that we don't know where we are going but one thing is certain—we are going some place pretty fast.

DANGER IN POOR TALK

DON'T LET SPEECH BETRAY YOU

Those telephone conversations—how they do show up our shortcomings in speech, underline our mistakes in grammar and taste, emphasize a nasal or grating or mumbling voice!

The girl whose gay smile, bright face, and youthful freshness may cause you to forget her unimpressive chatter certainly does sound different on the phone.

"Hi, kiddo," she greets any young man who calls her up. And before he recovers from the slight jolt at the friendly slang she's grabbing on, "Say, that's an elegant auto I saw you out in, is it yours?" She tells him that his sister is a "classy dresser," and inquires "Whazzause" of reading all those high-brow books, anyway?

No consideration for the taste of the young chap at the other end of the wire—just a heedless outpouring of her own not-too-important opinions.

If she knew how seriously she was offending a man that she'd like to impress, she'd probably produce that ridiculous apology, "Pardon ME."

with the accent on the "me." If it ever was an acceptable phrase, it has long since been placed on the "Cheap Slang" list.

If you don't hear good talk about you, read it in books, and listen to good dictation on the radio. Books also give you something to talk about besides trifling personalities. Personal chat-chat is not only in dubious taste, but it may actually wound or enrage people.

That's the danger of being a flounderer in every-day talk. You really lose friends. You feel people withdraw from you, and you begin to be either resentful, lonely, bewildered, or bitter.

We all have to talk. Why not learn to talk well? Our 46-page Home Institute booklet, "Improving Your Conversation," will help you to observe and overcome all kinds of errors in talk. Freshen up that vocabulary, learn to think of the other person's tastes and feelings before you say too much when your interest improves your voice. Refuse to speak badly.
